Journal of Creative Writing (JOCW) (ISSN 2410-6259)

The JOCW is a quarterly journal presenting research on the extended fields of Social Sciences. Therefore, based on its multidisciplinary approach, the JOCW recommends every new submission. The JOCW qualifies each submission based on its multidisciplinary approach because, currently, researchers are more interested in the creation of multidisciplinary research knowledge. Moreover, this knowledge transcends its previous field of knowledge. Hence, a multidisciplinary researcher integrates information, data, techniques, tools, perspectives, concepts, and/or theories from two or more disciplines or bodies of specialized knowledge. In this sense, the objective of the JOCW is to advance fundamental understanding or to solve problems whose solutions are beyond the scope of a single discipline or area of research practice.

The JOCW concerns the patterns of research knowledge transfer across fields, motivated by the assumption that multidisciplinary research offers compelling promise in advancing science and solving complex societal problems. No matter what your academic identity or background is, show data-driven social implications in your manuscript. Utilize scientific knowledge and academic scholarship that either study or target to benefit social groups and, more generally, human society. Your manuscript may take a theoretical or speculative model as well as statistical and mathematical. Note that the journal also includes a 'Curriculum and Pedagogy' section, which is devoted to supporting the internationalization of higher education process.

Article Preparation: Authors should maintain APA style for in-text citations and preparing the reference list.
